

Reframing Exercise

Dear Students,

We need to address several ongoing problems that have been happening in our classes. Many of you are not putting in enough effort, and your recent work shows a lack of focus and responsibility. Too many assignments are being submitted late or not at all, and the overall quality of work has been disappointing.

Classroom behavior has also become a concern. Several of you continue to talk during lessons, ignore instructions, and disrupt others who are trying to learn. This kind of behavior wastes valuable time and makes it very difficult for us to teach effectively.

Additionally, your participation has been minimal. Most of you are not asking questions, contributing to discussions, or showing interest in the learning activities we prepare. This lack of engagement is affecting your progress and the overall atmosphere in the classroom.

If these issues continue, your learning outcomes will suffer even more. We expect you to take responsibility for your actions and make significant improvements in your behavior, attitude, and effort.

Sincerely,
Your Teacher

Use this section to highlight and reframe some of the sentences to make them strength based.

Dear Students,

We need to address several ongoing problems that have been happening in our classes. Many of you are not putting in enough effort, and your recent work shows a lack of focus and responsibility. Too many assignments are being submitted late or not at all, and the overall quality of work has been disappointing.

Classroom behavior has also become a concern. Several of you continue to talk during lessons, ignore instructions, and disrupt others who are trying to learn. This kind of behavior wastes valuable time and makes it very difficult for us to teach effectively.

Additionally, your participation has been minimal. Most of you are not asking questions, contributing to discussions, or showing interest in the learning activities we prepare. This lack of engagement is affecting your progress and the overall atmosphere in the classroom.

If these issues continue, your learning outcomes will suffer even more. We expect you to take responsibility for your actions and make significant improvements in your behavior, attitude, and effort.

Sincerely,
Your Teacher